On Wednesday 22nd June, we will be having a fun educational experience, each class will get to meet Thomas the gorilla and learn about the impact humans are having on the environment.

This is a valuable learning experience which enriches our curriculum.

We are asking for a £1 donation to contribute towards this learning activity. Please pay on parent pay by Monday 20th June. Please read below for additional information.

Teach Rex provides creative workshops in schools across the UK that ignite young minds and imaginations. The workshops are complemented by materials connecting the experience to science, English and ICT, helping you to continue the learning long after the session is over.

The first workshop is when the children will come face to face with Thomas the Gorilla and will be immersed in a story following Thomas's life. During the story, children will create an emotional attachment with Thomas and his home, exploring the positive and negative impacts of human behaviours on our world.

The story outlines the importance of sustainability and raises awareness of our human footprint on the world around us. It has been differentiated from EYFS up to Year 6 and is designed to get children of all ages thinking scientifically with an underpinning message about the world around them.

The second workshop focuses on expanding vocabulary and encouraging children to verbally discuss ideas that transfer into writing, using green screen to ignite their imaginations. Children will become explorers in the rainforest and delve into a range of vocabulary and sentence structures whilst overcoming dangerous threats on their journey. All of the content in this workshop is directly linked to writing, drama and ICT outcomes. All edited videos will be sent to our school for evidence and for children to see their marvellous work on the big screen.
